Grateful dad's grand gesture to hospital unit

Local high school pupils celebrate GCSE exam success

Skem toddler in holiday tragedy

Tragic Blossom Iris Kelly

A FOUR-year-old girl from Skelmersdale has died while on holiday with her family in Spain in what is understood to be a tragic accident.

Blossom Iris Kelly had been on life support following the incident which happened the day after the family arrived in the country on Saturday, August 20.

It is believed Blossom was pulled unconscious from a swimming pool in the town of Sils, near Girona, on Sunday, August 21.

She was airlifted to hospital in Barcelona and her mother, Vicky Kelly, had to make the decision to switch off her life support machine last Thursday - her dad's birthday.

The family were in Spain to celebrate Blossom's grandfather's 60th birthday, it is understood.

Vicky wrote on Facebook on Thursday: "Our beautiful Blossom Iris Kelly lost her fight at 12.45pm this afternoon. She put on the most amazing battle but her little body was tired and we had to make the most difficult decision of our lives and let her go and she chose to go today on her daddy's birthday.

NO REPRIEVE FOR LIBRARIES

Report by Henry James

COUNTY councillors are next week expected to confirm plans to close three libraries in West Lancashire following a 12-week consultation.

The three libraries - at Up Holland, Burscough and Parbold - were earmarked for closure, along with 26 others and 35 children's centres in the county, as part of savings of £200m which Lancashire County Council has to make by 2020.

Now, following the consultation on the proposals, which ran from May 18 to August 18, members of the county council cabinet are set to confirm the closures at their meeting next Thursday, September 8.

Meanwhile, there was mixed news for children's centres in the borough. The St John's Centre in Skelmersdale, which originally faced the axe, is now set for a reprieve, while Up Holland's Children's Centre at St Thomas the Martyr CE Primary School, which wasn't due to close is now on the 'hit list'.

The Hesketh with Becconsall Children's Centre and the Moorgate Children's Centre in Ormskirk are also set to close, along with the Children's Social Care facility at Fairlie, Skelmersdale and Ormskirk's Derby Street Day Centre for older people.

The county council revealed the proposals to close 29 libraries and 35 children's centres in May.

And they say that feedback from 7,700 responses have been taken into account in forming the alternative proposals to bring services together to form a network of multi-functional buildings known as Neighbourhood Centres, which would provide a base for a range of different services in one place.

Up Holland library - threatened with closure under county council proposals

More than 100 buildings would no longer be used for county council services and the number of places at which some services are available would reduce. The cabinet will also be asked to agree to explore proposals made by a number of community groups and other organisations to take on responsibility for running some of the affected buildings and services.

County Councillor David Borrow, deputy leader of Lancashire County Council and portfolio holder for finance, said: "Our aim is to find a solution that still gives everyone in Lancashire good access to good

Grateful dad's 'grand' thank-you gesture to hospital baby unit

Report by Henry James

Neonatal Unit manager Karin Waring receives a generous donation of baby clothes and supplies from David Jones representing the local RAOB watched by unit nurses.

A GRATEFUL dad has finally been given the chance to 'give something back' to the hospital whose staff nursed his premature baby son to health in the all-important first few months of his life.

Little Andrew Jones weighed little more than a bag of sugar when he entered the world 12 weeks early at Ormskirk Hospital 15 years ago.

Now dad, David, from Blakehall, Digmoor, has repaid his debit of gratitude by donating more than £1,000 worth of baby clothes and equipment to the hospital's maternity unit.

The 49-year-old raised the money to buy the items with the help of fellow members of the Skelmersdale branch of The Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes (the Buffs) who meet at the Quarry Bank Community Association in the town.

Today, Andrew is a normal healthy teenager but David never forgot the care and treatment he received after weigning at just over 2lbs.

He said: "I really wanted to give something back to the staff at the hospital.

"I was working nights at the time of Andrew's birth and they allowed me to visit out of visiting hours. I would finish work at 6am and go straight to the hospital to feed him.

"Even though it was so early in the morning I was allowed to go and stay as long as I wanted.

"And the care Andrew received was first class and they answered any questions we had.

"Shortly after his birth we had to go to another hospital to have his eyes tested. They let me go with him in the ambulance and he had a fully-qualified nurse and a trainee nurse with him all the time.

"He was in hospital for three months after he was born and was finally allowed home on what was more or less his 'due date' - even though he was still on oxygen at the time."

Among the items which David donated were 200 packs of very small nappies, anti-scratch mitts, bibs, baby grows, dummies, bottles, bottle brushes, blankets, hats, muslin squares, boxes of wipes and baby towels.

David added: "I would like to say a big thank-you to all the people who donated money. I asked the nurses what they wanted and they gave me a big list and that's what I got for them.

"It was a good to have the chance to do something for the nurses who were well deserving.

"And when I went back to the hospital, two of the nurses were there who had been at the unit when Andrew was born and they remembered me."

'Glenburn pitch doesn't belong to us' say county council

LANCASHIRE County Council bosses have said the closed £650,000 state-of-the-art 3G floodlit Astroturf 11-a-side pitch at Glenburn Sports College does not belong to them but transferred to Glenburn Education Trust when Glenburn became a foundation school in 2010.

The school closed this year and county council chiefs have added that there is a "pending application" to the Secretary of State to decide on the future of the site and that one of the options is to transfer ownership back to the county council.

The authorities have come under criticism from sports clubs for closing the pitch with one angry official saying: "Skelmersdale has lost a school and now it has no sports centre. It's appalling."

Eddie Sutton, head of development and corporate service for Lancashire County Council, said: "This site transferred to the Glenburn Education Trust, by Operation of Law, when it became a foundation school in 2010. The school closed earlier this year.

OPTIONS

"The future ownership of this site is subject to a pending application to the Secretary of State to decide on the future of the site, with one of the potential options being to transfer ownership back to the county council.

"Activ8 was a service run by the sports college itself, rather than being funded or operated by the county council.

"If the site returns to county council ownership, we would consider the future of these facilities at this point. However, public leisure facilities are not a statutory county council service, they're usually a matter for district councils.

"The county council is not in a position to fund additional services."

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper said: "Prior to the closure of Glenburn Sports College, I was very concerned about the future of these sports facilities and raised this with both Lancashire County Council and West Lancashire Borough Council. I was assured that all options for retaining the sports facilities were being discussed and would be explored.

"However it now appears that nothing was done to protect Skelmersdale's sports facilities and the negotiations following West Lancashire Schools Partnership's expression of interest actually made no progress, which is both hugely disappointing and deeply concerning.

PRIORITY

"Better provision of sports facilities in Skelmersdale has always been a priority for me. I fought against the closure of Glenburn Sports College and pushed for more investment in facilities following the loss of Digmoor Sports Centre, working with partners including Sport England, the Lawn Tennis Association, the lottery and the FA.

"I am currently in contact with both local authorities to establish exactly what happened to the 'negotiations' between the councils, what went wrong and what are the options going forward.

"After such a successful Olympic Games for Great Britain we know access to and the availability of local sports facilities are where the road to being an Olympic champion begins. For local children it is becoming harder with the closure of more facilities."

"Words can not describe how we as a family are feeling right now but it hurts so bad. Telling my kids that their sister had gone was the worst thing I have ever had to do. God knows what we are going to do without the most gorgeous little character in the world. She was my best mate and I'm going to miss her so so much. Goodbye princess love you always."

Blossom's auntie, Hayley Thomas, wrote on Facebook: "One of the hardest days of my life today, we lost our beautiful wild funny little Blossy. You, your mum and dad fought till the bitter end but it wasn't meant to be.

'Memories'

"I have never witnessed such strength I am so proud of my brother and sister-in-law. Life will never be the same without you gorgeous girl, but we are all so thankful for the four-and-a-half years we got with you.

"We are going celebrate you and remember the great memories we have of you are precious flower. Love you forever Blossom Iris Kelly, from your fairy godmother."

Ms Kelly first wrote about the incident on Facebook on Monday, August 22. "Some of you already may be aware that there has been a tragic accident whilst we are here in Spain which has resulted in our little Blossy being on a life support machine. She is in the best hospital with nurses and doctors who are real angels."

Vicky's post had been shared more than 2,600 times and people have been posting their condolences.

Report by Danielle Thompson

ROSIE Cooper has called on the West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) to explain the reason for what she described as the "disproportionately high salary" paid to its chair, Dr John Caine.

The West Lancs MP, has questioned what duties and responsibilities Dr Caine undertakes for the £109,000 per annum he receives for his non-executive role as part-time chair of the group.

This is believed to be almost double the £55,000-£60,000 salary of the CCG chair in neighbouring Knowsley.

According to the CCG's own annual report, he is contracted for 1,248 hours per annum, which includes breaks and an annual leave entitlement of 148.5 hours per year, at a cost of £350 for each four-and-a-quarter hour session.

He chairs the CCG's board meetings, of which there were six last year, as well as the weekly clinical executive committee and monthly CCG membership committee meetings.

Rosie Cooper said: "Every time more information is revealed about the contractual arrangements for the chair of West Lancashire CCG the more questions it raises. West Lancashire CCG need to explain clearly and in detail why the chair is contracted for so many hours at a rate of £350 per 4.25 hours session. One of the questions is do the CCG actually monitor the number of hours Dr Caine is spending on CCG work and if the roles and responsibilities he is undertaking are appropriate for his position.

"Dr Caine is not actually doing the day-to-day running of the CCG, that is the role of the full-time staff. Yet the chief officer is the only person who is paid more than the part-time chair.

"Whilst the CCG report the salary figures in their annual report it is time they were fully open, transparent and accountable to the people of West Lancashire. It is time to explain what duties and responsibilities the chair actually undertakes that demands such a disproportionately high salary payment."

In response a spokesperson for the West Lancashire CCG said: "Our chair is on the same rate as all of our other clinical leads (local GPs) on the CCG board. This rate is the same as that previously paid by NHS Central Lancashire Primary Care Trust and has not been changed during the three plus years the CCG has been in operation.

"The sessional rate paid is determined by the remuneration committee (which has no GP representation) and reimburses GPs for their income lost while not working at a GP practice.

"Our chair's salary, which is quoted correctly in our CCG annual reports as £109,000, is for his role on our board as a clinical lead – for which he works six sessions. He is not paid anything additional for his role as chair. The pension payments quoted in the MP's press statement have been misinterpreted and therefore do not represent payments made by the CCG on behalf of the chairman.

"GPs that are also chairs of CCGs agree and devote different amounts of time to the role. Locally, our chairman works for the CCG for the majority of his working time. In addition to his chairman role, our chair also takes on a wider role of clinical responsibility for the CCG, for example overseeing several programmes of work such as urgent care.

"We are extremely fortunate to have a chair who has dedicated a greater portion of time to their CCG duties. Our chair's input, along with our other GP board members and clinicians, ensures that our work and decisions are underpinned by expert clinical knowledge about local health services."

Council grant pot for charities and voluntary groups

COMMUNITY, charity and voluntary organisations in West Lancashire are being invited to apply for revenue grants from a borough council funding 'pot' of £136,240.

The council will consider applications from registered charities, voluntary organisations, community interest companies and social enterprises that operate for public benefit.

Available solely for bodies operating in and serving the residents of West Lancashire, previous recipients of grants from the fund include the CVS, Citizens Advice, Age UK, Dial a Ride, Home-start and Bereavement Counselling Services.

If an application is approved, funding will be granted for the 2017-2018 financial year.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder with responsibility for grants to voluntary, community and charity organisations, said: "The council is very aware of the huge impact many of these organisations have on the community and would like to support them as much as we can. With an ever-shrinking council budget, we're trying our best to continue this funding stream for the benefit of our residents. We are keen to receive applications from organisations operating in West Lancashire, however small or large."

The deadline for applications is Friday, September 9. For more information, including clear criteria and an application form, visit the council website www.west-lancs.gov.uk/grants. Groups can also get more information and an application form from Sue Griffiths on 01695 585097 or email susan.griffiths@west-lancs.gov.uk.

Libraries face axe in county cost-cutting drive

services, despite the pressures on the council's budget. We have done a lot of work to assess where services should be located in future, taking account of things such as geographic spread, accessibility and the needs of different communities. Some of the changes to the proposals reflect what people have told us about the way they access these services.

"We're also keen to continue exploring the potential for other groups and organisations to take on responsibility for some of the affected buildings and services, so we're grateful for the interest that has been shown in that possibility over the last few months.

"The report acknowledges that more work will be needed to assess the business cases that have been put forward."

The report also asks councillors to agree plans to explore alternative options for the future delivery of library services, with a focus on examining whether community-run libraries could add to the statutory service provided by the county council.

A package of help is proposed to help establish any community-run library, including £5,000 to cover set-up costs, shelving, an initial supply of books from the county's store, and advice from a dedicated community library development officer.

Details of the proposals are included in a report to the cabinet for a decision on Thursday, September 8.

However, Conservative representative for West Lancashire East divisionh, County Councillor David Westley slammed the decision to release the 1,468-pages report at 8pm on the Friday before the Bank Holiday.

He said: "The loss of the libraries in Parbold, Burscough and Up Holland will have a major impact on the local communities and is an act of political vandalism.

"Ormskirk Library will not escape unscathed as under Labour's proposals the LCC staff, displaced from the closure of the Moorgate Children's Centre, are to operate from the library building. Given the absence of any spare space in the library this must have a major impact on the range and quality of services currently on offer."

Concourse tenants' fury over delay in repairing lift

Report by Henry James

TENANTS at the Concourse in Skelmersdale have criticised the management of the shopping centre for failing to sort out the broken lift.

And they claim that if more money was invested into the location then more people would shop there.

Concourse bosses have said they are working hard to solve the lift problem and aim to finish it as soon as possible.

A relative of one tenant, who did not want to be named, told the Champion: "All Concourse tenants - shops and market stalls - have been informed in a newsletter from the management that the lift is beyond repair as the parts required are obsolete, and it doesn't help when the escalators take more than a day to be repaired!

"Then the management don't seem to understand why the footfall is down and there are fewer shoppers in the mall.

"People in wheelchairs can't get up the ramp because it's too steep and are frightened to go down it in case they can't control the chairs, especially when it is their loved one they are pushing abou.

"There is a service lift but not everyone knows about it and also it's not reliable as it keeps breaking as well.

"If the management spent less on legal fees fighting the new High Street plans and used the money to improve the facilities more people would shop in the centre."

In response, Concourse manager, Gary Mitchell, said: "We apologise for the inconvenience that the out-of-service lift has caused to our customers and tenants.

The broken lift at the Concourse

"We have been working hard to find a solution. We had hoped to repair it but we found that the necessary parts were obsolete so we have now instructed a specialist lift consultant to put the lift refurbishment works out to tender.

"Once the tenders are received, we will appoint a contractor to carry out the works. We aim to have the work completed as soon as possible.

"In the meantime, anyone who needs to use the lift should ask a member of the security team or the cleaning team to accompany them in the service lift.

"There is also a ramp located at the back of the market hall on the ground floor, and opposite New Look and the Card Factory on the first floor."

Optician's eye test plea to parents

PARENTS in Skelmersdale are being urged to have their children's eyesight tested before they go back to the classroom.

According to research by the College of Optometrists, more than a quarter of children have never had an eye test. Now bosses at Specsavers in the town are hoping to encourage local youngsters to buck the trend before the new school term starts.

Eyesight problems can be difficult for children to explain to parents or teachers and in turn poor vision can limit their ability to concentrate properly in class, leading to further difficulties down the line.

Store director at Specsavers Skelmersdale, Sully Patel, said: "There are a lot of different things that parents need to prepare before school begins in September and we would like them to remember to book an eye test as well as shopping for new uniforms and backpacks.

"Younger children in particular can have a hard time noticing that there's a problem with their vision. It's better to be safe than sorry and if one of our opticians notices that they may need glasses they can get them all sorted in time for the new school year.

And he added: "Undetected problems with vision can damage a child's confidence and performance. Subtle signs such as poor handwriting, low-attention span or falling behind peers at school can indicate visual difficulties, so it's important that parents take them to get their eyes tested regularly."

Eye tests for children under 16 and in full-time education are free on the NHS.

Authority says revised document takes in views of residents following consultation

Report by Henry James

WEST Lancs Council has adopted a new Statement of Community Involvement (SCI) which sets out how it will engage people in the planning process.

The local authority is required by law to consult various people on many aspects of planning. For example, it needs to notify neighbours about planning applications, and to gauge the views of local residents and other interested parties when preparing new planning policy documents.

Earlier this year the council carried out a consultation on the SCI and has said it has taken the views of those who responded into account when writing the new document.

The council has said adherence to the SCI will be an important consideration when gauging how well it is carrying out its planning function. The new SCI replaces an older document prepared by the council in 2007.

Councillor John Hodson, the council's portfolio holder for planning, said: "This council is always interested in hearing the views of the residents of West Lancashire, and of those with an interest in the area.

"Planning Services regularly consult stakeholders and we want to make sure we continue to engage with people in the most effective way possible. We are very grateful to everyone who took part in the consultation."

Councillor John Hodson

High school pupils celebrate GCSE results

PUPILS in Skelmersdale and Up Holland are celebrating exam success after receiving their GCSE results.

Staff and students at Lathom High School saw a continuing trend of improvement.

Issuing the first GCSE results since becoming the nominated school to receive students from Glenburn Sports College, headteacher, Jane Galbraith, expressed pride in the "superb" achievements of the students, with significant improvement in all measures from last year.

More than 72% of Lathom students achieved A*-C in English, despite the national fall. Meanwhile 100% of students achieved A*-C in additional maths and computing and contributing further to Lathom's success were A*-C results of 76% in history, 63% in resistant materials and 70% in physical education. The gap in attainment between boys and girls was also significantly lower than that reported nationally.

Alisha Parry achieved 10 A* and two A grades, while Jay McEveley achieved seven A* and five A grades.

Mrs Galbraith said: "We are delighted with the results of all of our students and must recognise that these two students have shown some of the very best individual performances in Lathom's history."

Jonathan Smart, headteacher of Our Lady Queen of Peace was delighted with another year of "excellent results."

He said: "Our students of 2016 have excelled in their achievements. The school has seen a further increase in the number of students achieving 5 A* to C including English and maths, a 10% increase on last year. Added to this, the English baccalaureate results continues to improve."

Joseph Howard, chief executive of the Year 11 Senior Leadership Team, achieved 15 GCSE passes, the highest result, with 12 A*/A grades.

Other notable results were: Niamh Andrews, Chloe Lever, Hannah McCoy and Kieran Murray, all achieving 14 GCSE passes with eight and above A/A* grades. Both Chloe Davies and Adrija Briune achieved 13 GCSE higher grade passes with 10 subjects at A/A*. Added to this, they also achieved AS success in religious education. Alexandra Sonija achieved 14 higher grade passes with 5 at A/A* including A* in GCSE Russian.

In several subjects pupils achieved 100% higher grade passes. These were BTEC Art, Engineering, ICT, Japanese and Russian.

Mr Smart added: "We are delighted that more than 70% of our students achieved the required national standard of higher grade passes in English Language and literature. Added to this, 70% of our students achieved higher grade passes in maths, a significant improvement on last year."

Meanwhile Up Holland High School announced their 2016 GCSE results as the best ever.

The school saw 73% of pupils achieving five A* to C grades including English and maths, an increase of around 15 % on last year.

Headteacher, Mrs Barton, said: "This reflects the hard work of our pupils and staff. Not only are there some fantastic individual results here, the percentage of pupils achieving A* to C grades across all subjects shows the entire cohort performed above expectations."

She added that the new progress measures are equally impressive. The Progress 8 total is +0.37 which will confidently take the school above national averages.

More than 20% of all the grades were A* or A, and stand-out pupils included Vishal Chahwala, 12 A*; Megan Burgess, four A* and eight A; Elizabeth Ryan, 10 A* and one B; Steph Butcher, six A*, four A and one B; and Adam Lowe, four A*, six A and one B.

SAY activities a hit with youngsters

THE sporting activities organised by Skelmersdale Action for Youth (SAY) have proved popular with youngsters from the town's Digmoor and Tanhouse estates - but there's still time for more to join in the fun.

SAY have been holding turfboarding and sledging sessions on the grass slopes at the Amphitheatre in Yewdale on equipment which can reach top speeds of between 20 and 30mph.

These have been run in conjunction with Skelmersdale Police, in particular PCSO Andy Holderness, and Alan Lewis from SAY said they have proved a big hit.

He said: "The youngsters have been inspired by the activities which, as well as being great fun, also go some way to imroving their fitness as they go up and down the slopes.

"There was even a touch of the Olympic spirit as we gave out medals and a trophy for the fastest times.

"We would like to invite more youngsters to the sessions which take place every Wednesday evening from 6 to 7pm, depending on the weather.

"Young people who are interested need to fill in their name and address and next of kin's phone number for health and safety reasons. We will also be taking photographs for sponsorship and press releases.

"SAY would like to thank Inspector June Chessell and her Neighbourhood Team of officers who have supported a number of different activities throughout the year, and also Phil Newby for volunteering for us."

Skem North JFC and the side from LA Galaxy

Skem youngsters chosen to host US touring team

THE budding football aces of Skem North JFC were seeing 'stars' of a different kind when they played host to a team from LA Galaxy, the club where former Liverpool and England skipper is currently plying his trade.

But the local youngsters didn't have to pit their skills against the Anfield legend, instead they tackled one of the Galaxy's junior sides on a week-long tour of the UK.

After visiting Southampton and London, the Americans pitched up at Skelmersdale to take on the Skem North side and although the weather was definitely more Lancashire than California, it didn't dampen the excitement.

JMO Sports Park was the venue and the game was supported financially by local businesses. Skem North's main sponsors, MenuBoy Ltd. and Skelmersdale Carpet and Flooring shared the cost of pitch hire and referee, while the Tanner pub provided an after-match buffet.

The game was played in good spirit with Skem North on top early on and deservedly taking the lead.

However the fitness and athleticism of the guests from the USA eventually began to tell. After levelling the scores midway through the game, Galaxy took the lead with 15 minutes to go and finally ran out comfortable 4-1 winners.

The scoreline though doesn't really do justice to the Skem North lads who were in contention until those late goals dashed their hopes.

Christopher Castley from Skem North JFC said: "Talking to the managers after the game it was clear that neither was too concerned about the score. Everyone thought the most important aspect of the game was that the players had enjoyed themselves and gained some experience to benefit from when the season starts again in September.

"We are able to provide low-cost football thanks to fundraisers and sponsors, in particular our main sponsor MenuBoy Ltd, who provide the kit for almost all the Skem North teams, while other sponsors include ProCare and Portico Nurseries.

"Anyone interested in getting involved at Skem North JFC, as a sponsor, player or volunteer, would be very welcome." For more information contact chairman Peter Glatzel on 07787 534589.

'Affordable' homes plan for Roby Mill site

PROPOSALS to build four 'affordable' homes to the east of the car park at The Fox Inn, Roby Mill, Up Holland have been submitted to West Lancashire Borough Council.

The properties would be built on School Lane, adjacent to the current car park which serves the pub in the heart of the village.

The area is also within the Conservation Area and the Green Belt and the proposed cottages would be served by individual access off School Lane.

In a planning statement for the application it is stated that the concerns of Lancashire County Council's Highways officer are being addressed in a traffic survey report.

The applicants are to discuss with the planning and housing officers how the affordable dwellings are to be delivered.

They could be intermediate homes, sold at below market rates for the area, or starter homes as proposed in the 2016 Housing and Planning Act.

In a planning statement for the application, town planners Steven Abbott Associates write: "The proposed scheme would deliver four additional affordable dwellings in an area with an identified need for such housing. The Local Planning Authority (LPAs) Housing Needs Assessment parish summary for Up Holland identifies an annual need for 13 affordable dwellings in the parish of Up Holland, based upon a household survey undertaken in 2009.

"The parish survey concludes that the acquisition of affordable housing for Up Holland residents should be supported by both the parish and the borough councils."

Time running out for chance to have your say on council budget proposals

Report by Henry James

'It is very important that people take the opportunity to give their views'

THERE are just days left to have your say on West Lancs Council's proposals for savings, efficiencies and increases in income.

The authority is urging residents, council tenants and local organisations in the borough to give their views before the deadline on Sunday, September 4.

People can express their views through the council website www.westlancs.gov.uk/your-views, where more information is provided about the proposals.

The borough council is inviting comments on proposals for savings totalling more than £750,000 in the general revenue budget.

These include a controversial annual charge of £30 to collect garden waste; ceasing garden waste collections during the winter; a 'modest' reduction in the number of CCTV cameras and in live monitoring and a review of street cleaning work.

At the same time, council tenants are also asked to give their views on proposed housing budget savings totalling more than £6m over the next three years.

Councillor Chris Wynn

Among the proposals are the removal of the mains water replacement programme, revising the disabled adaptations policy to make better use of housing stock, removal of the programme to replace fencing and paving and replacing it with cyclical repairs and introducing a nominal charge for the gardening service.

Councillor Chris Wynn, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for finance, has said: "The council faces some tough decisions and it is very important that people take the opportunity to give their views so the council can take them into account when those decisions are made."

Council tenants who do not have access to the Internet can request a printed copy of the proposals by calling 01695 585141. Tenants can also send their comments in writing to Housing Revenue Budget Consultation, Housing and Inclusion Services, 49-51 Westgate, Skelmersdale, WN8 8LP.

Aftershock at the UDO World Championships

Street dance crew take on the world!

...and finish creditable 11th against best of the best

A DANCE team with members from Ormskirk, Burscough, Tarleton and Southport stepped up to the challenge when they represented Great Britain at the UDO World Championships in Glasgow this month.

And although they didn't manage to bag a top-three spot they did West Lancashire proud by being placed 11th.

The Aftershock street dance crew, who are trained by Claire Lloyd, principal of the Base Dance Theatre Academy in Ormskirk, qualified in January at a regional qualifying event and were invited to compete in the championships judged by top industry professionals from all over Europe.

Dancing against the best of the best, Aftershock had to fight all the way to achieve their creditable final placing.

Claire said: "Not all young people get many opportunities like this hundreds of crews did not make the final.

"The standard was so high it was intense.

"I am proud of Aftershock and their achievements so far and excited to see them grow. Well done team!"

Mayor plays host to fellow civic heads

MAYOR of West Lancs, Councillor Liz Savage and her consort, Councillor Noel Delaney played host to a party of fellow civic dignitaries from throughout the North West during a special visit to the borough.

The group - a total of 26 North West mayors, mayoresses and consorts - were greeted by councillors Savage and Delaney and escorted to Midstream (West Lancs) Limited for a talk and a tour of the premises.

During their time at Midstream they had breakfast and saw the area where the students work in the greenhouses, the horticultural buildings, the general office area, the garden centre and the craft area.

They then went on to visit Hotter Shoes, Fairbanks Environmental Ltd, and Cast North West before ending the day at Ormskirk Parish Church.

The visiting mayors included the Lord Mayors of Liverpool and Chester and the chairman of Lancashire County Council, Councillor Janice Hanson.

Abi is now living happy

A West Lancashire slimmer Abi Edwards 29, joined her local Slimming world group last September and lost an amazing 4st 5.5lb in just 38 weeks. She says she is happier and healthier than she's ever been.

"The help and support of my Consultant and fellow members has been invaluable. I know I couldn't have done it with them. I enjoy sharing recipes and food ideas, I love that we're all in it together - supporting each other through the ups and downs. I always come away feeling motivated for the week ahead.

After lots of failed diets, I found it hard to believe I could eat as much free food as I wanted - without measuring or counting everything and lose weight. I'm still able to eat all my favourite meals such as curries, roast dinners and even takeaways and top of all that I can still enjoy a few large rums or a couple of Tequilas - guilt free.

I've now got bags of energy and feel like I've uncovered the person I always wanted to be. If you'd like to lose weight without ever going hungry and enjoy every step of the way - go along to your local Slimming world group. I was so glad I did. I promise you will too!"

Council's £1.7m cash injection to provide affordable homes for local people

A CASH injection of around £1.7m has been allocated by West Lancashire Borough Council to provide "much-needed" affordable homes for local people.

The funding will cover all the costs to construct or purchase properties that would be made available for rent through the council or a social landlord.

Councillor Jenny Patterson, the council's portfolio holder for housing, said: "There is a need in West Lancashire for more affordable housing for local people.

"The council has agreed that one of our priorities must be to provide more affordable housing to meet local needs and that is why we have earmarked this substantial amount of funding.

"This project is at a very early stage and it's not possible to say yet how many homes could be built, or where.

"We will focus on providing the types of property that are most needed in the area, in ways that provide the best possible value for money."

The council is currently looking for suitable sites and considering a number of possibilities, including working with a registered social landlord or developers on schemes that might provide a mixture of homes for rent and purchase.

Councillor Jenny Patterson

The £1.7m total includes around £500,000 income from the sale of council properties under the right-to-buy scheme, which would normally have had to be handed over to central government.

The council has provided £1.2m match funding to ensure that the cash from council house sales can be retained in the borough.

In addition to building some new homes, the council is also considering buying a small number of properties which are currently for sale on the open market, to add to the council's housing stock for rent.

A huge issue that is only going to get worse when new homes are built

INAPPROPRIATE parking and poor driving on Long Lane, Aughton is a huge issue, but we need to be careful what we wish for.

The stretch from Christ Church to the lights is particularly bad, with racing vehicles, folk on telephones or aggressive pavement drivers.

It seems that the 20mph limit is seen as a challenge - and, in truth, so it is to many drivers.

Folk will not adhere to a law they detest, so this is partially the result. Added to this is those who cut the corner when joining this road from the A59.

Then there is the stretch from the lights past the station. It is a puzzle why so many residents of 'the flats' park on the road when they have garages supplied, but these cars do act as a chicane and help speeds reduce.

There is no spare land available by the station for parking incidentally as it is scheduled for building work.

Imagine the problems that will evolve in the next five years though following the now certainty of more than 200 houses being built off Parrs Lane.

The government inspector overturned the council's rejection on the basis that as the distance from the centre of the site is within 850 metres of a railway station, then the residents would not use cars as they would walk (to work)!

There are solutions for some of these problems and here are some.

Fix a mirror opposite all joining roads onto Long Lane so vehicles can be seen.

Fit cameras on the traffic lights and install large signs saying this. (I have witnessed several accidents and/or near misses as traffic tries to beat the lights).

Fit an illuminated sign showing the speed being travelled - on both stretches to and after the traffic lights.

Residents who have spare parking available (on their drives?) could offer this to regular parkers and charge a rent as happens in high congestion areas in London.

Martin Pagett, details supplied

Time for residents to make their voices heard

THANKS for the recent letters highlighting the problem of traffic on Long Lane, Aughton.

These problems are an ongoing issue which have been raised at Aughton Parish Council meetings every month for the last few years, and with County Councillor O'Toole and the police about the speed of traffic, and have been reported by your reporter Danielle Thompson in the past.

There has been talk about traffic lights and mini roundabouts but nothing seems to be happening. It's like banging your head against a brick wall.

We have a parish council which meets the second Monday of every month at Aughton Village Hall and also borough councillors and county councillors, contact them and see if they take notice.

People of Aughton make your voices heard.

Three years on still no sign of promised leisure facilities

I AM writing with concerns about the Concourse shopping centre. Things seem to be getting from bad to worse and it seems never anything good is reported from the centre recently.

If it's not the bins disappearing, then it's the bikes (I think it's a good idea them being banned), the lifts and escalators not working or the management showing absolutely no interest when approached.

About three years ago there was a real 'hype' when the centre confirmed we were getting these fantastic leisure facilities and everything looked promising for Skem. But yet today absolutely nothing has happened - in fact the place has got worse. What's going on?

There has been nothing put on over the holidays for children, or in fact for anyone, to attract people to the centre, although surrounding centres have.

We all know about St Modwen's plans and the court case but I don't see why this has stopped anything happening for three years when apparently the Concourse had got planning permission and things had been signed up.

Personally, I think this is just delaying tactics and nothing is going to happen. The only time we hear anything is when St Modwen appear in the paper and then LCP appear a week later saying the same story from three years ago.

Come on, Concourse is this happening or what?

'Guardian angels' came to my rescue after town-centre fall

I WOULD like to say a very big thank-you to the guardian angels who picked me up and drove me home after I had a nasty fall on one of Ormskirk's many uneven pavements!

On Sunday, August 21, shortly after noon,I was walking along Derby Street when I fell. Two very kind young women stopped their car, helped me up and then drove me home.

I am very grateful as it turned out I had broken my foot and cracked a rib, so I would have had great difficulty walking home.

Thank you once again.

Postal service is far from first class

I LIVE in Skelmersdale and for the last few months the weirdest thing has been happening to me and to my neighbours.

We don't get the same postman anymore, we have loads and they keep giving the post to the wrong neighbours!

All sorts of post, from medical letters to bank statements, are going to two or three other houses and I have letters for three or four homes near to mine each week.

I don't know if it is to do with Royal Mail being privatised or with loads of new private companies but I don't know where to turn.

I have had three medical letters just never turn up. I ring my GP and he tells me they have been posted.

I am very concerned that this won't end well for someone. Very personal information is posted out, as well as bank cards and PIN numbers, and they need to go to the right house.

Mrs Kane, Skelmersdale

Why don't student landlords pay council tax like me?

CAN anyone tell me why landlords of properties occupied by students do not have to pay council tax?

I was not aware that these people did not pay it and as the rest of the tenants in Lancashire do, it seems a bit strange to me.

I am a pensioner but still pay full council tax, as I assume a lot of other people in my position do, so how come these landlords who are renting their property to students - who are paying them for this - get away with not doing so?

As the letter in last week's Champion (August 24) suggests it might be a way of helping with the council's problems with regards to cutting further services and maybe we could have more housing stock then available for the young people in Ormskirk and surrounding areas to purchase.

J. Rimmer, Skelmersdale

Contrasting views on commissioning group

I WAS encouraged to read the letter from Joseph Welsh (Champion, August 17) questioning the action of the West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) in limiting the bidding to run services at walk-in centres at Ormskirk Hospital and Skelmersdale to two independent providers.

In contrast, I am disillusioned after reading the report by Henry James where NHS England describes the performance of the CCG as 'good.'

Have they got a not-so-hidden agenda?

County transport chief urged to act on 'parking chaos' near university

Report by Henry James

A BOROUGH councillor is calling on Lancashire County Council's transport chief to act to help tackle what he called the annual "parking chaos" around Edge Hill University.

Derby ward representative, Councillor Adrian Owens accused the county's Lancashire Parking Services of making co-ordinated action to solve the problems in the vicinity of the university every September and October difficult. And he has written to the county council's transport portfolio holder, County Councillor John Fillis urging him to intervene.

Cllr Owens said: "It's entirely predictable that the residential streets around the university will experience dangerous and obstructive parking in the first few weeks of the academic year - which is why the local police and I raised the matter at the Freshers' Group meeting with a host of agencies in June.

"Since then, borough council officers and the local police sergeant have provided information about the streets affected but the response from Lancashire Parking Services has been dismissive.

"I discovered earlier this year that parking enforcement resources had been deliberately removed from West Lancashire in favour of Preston and other areas, but the start of year parking around Edge Hill is a predictable problem and as council taxpayers we should expect a positive response from Lancashire Parking Services, not the terse and negative replies they have provided."

Cllr. Owens has now written to Cllr. Fillis requesting he gets involved. He said: "Cllr. Fillis lives in Ormskirk. He knows full well the problems caused at the start of the academic year with parking.

'Fair share'

"For the sake of road safety and the amenity of local residents he needs to get West Lancashire our fair share of parking enforcement time and ensure Lancashire Parking Services plays a positive role in the same way that every other local agency does with Freshers' planning."

Lancashire Parking Services was established in 2009 as the county council's parking enforcement centre.

County Councillor John Fillis responded: "There was a reduction in the number of enforcement notices issued during 2015/16, due to the improvement work being undertaken on Moorgate, within Ormskirk town centre.

"As part of this development, old regulations had to be removed and new traffic regulations applied including vehicle restrictions, that had to go through due legal process.

"The new parking enforcement strategy was then put into place that has greatly improved the safety and environment of the pedestrianised area of the town. Most people who use Ormskirk will tell you that the town centre has improved due to the new parking management arrangement put in by Lancashire County Council.

"Much of the problems associated with parking in the university area are due to cars parking part way or fully on the pavement. This is a question of obstruction and a police matter.

"A Private Members Bill aimed at giving local councils powers to tackle irresponsible pavement parking was proposed in government in December 2015. The Conservative government rejected this bill.

"A pavement parking law would make a huge difference to pedestrian safety all over West Lancashire and not just around the university."

Steve builds on good teamwork to achieve personal goal

AS a coach and manager of a boy's football team, Steve Daw is used to encouraging his young team to hit the target – now the dad-of-one is celebrating after achieving a personal goal of his own.

Steve, 41, from Skelmersdale, has been voted Site Manager of the Year for housebuilder Redrow's Lancashire division and he's delighted.

He said: "The award has come after 12 months of really hard work and it's fantastic, it is an absolute honour.

Steve, who won the award for his work at Redrow's Summerhill Park development in Liverpool, added: "It is confirmation that I am doing something right and after only two years in the role, it was a real positive."

However, the team player was keen to share the credit. "I'm a great believer that it really is a team effort, between me and the lads on site and the sub-contractors. So it reflects well on them as much as it does on me.

"That goes for Redrow as a whole. From the minute I joined the company I have had nothing but support and encouragement – I couldn't praise Redrow highly enough and I certainly would never want to work for anyone else now."

A joiner and carpenter by trade, Steve has also worked as a self-employed shop-fitter and kitchen fitter, as well as undertaking social refurbishment projects and, even, holiday apartment renovations abroad.

He has worked for Redrow for eight years, joining as a tradesman before securing his current role as site manager for the Springfield Apartments phase of Summerhill Park.

The award was presented for all aspects of site management, including elements such as building to an agreed programme, health and safety, working to budgets and good customer service.

Steve Daw

Shaun Phoenix, area construction manager for Redrow Homes (Lancashire), said: "Steve likes things done right, he likes them done properly. He takes great pride in what he does and it shows. He always works to programme and completes schedules on time and, crucially, he gets the best out of everyone around him too."

As well as the prestigious title, Steve won a cash sum with which he has treated his son, Hayden, as well as partner Denise and her three children. "Without their support too, I wouldn't be able to do what I do," he added.

Timely reminder for borough's youngsters - it's good to talk!

County council advice service on hand to offer guidance and support on wide range of issues

Report by Henry James

STUDENTS who have recently received A-level or GCSE results are reminded that help, support and guidance is available from Talkzone, Lancashire County Council's advice service.

Young people between the ages of 12 and 19 can access this support by telephone, text, webtalk, email or Facebook. It is also available up to the age of 25 for any young person with a disability.

The Talkzone service, formerly known as The Line, is available from 2 to 10pm each day, including weekends and bank holidays.

County Councillor Matthew Tomlinson, Lancashire's cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "I appreciate that this can be a very worrying time for young people.

"I can still remember vividly how anxious I felt going into school to get my O and A-level results. I wish that Talkzone had been available then as I'm sure I would have used it.

County Councillor Matthew Tomlinson

"Through Talkzone, young people can speak with trained advisors in confidence and chat through anything that is worrying them, as well as their exam results.

"Staff are able to talk about a wide range of issues which young people tell us they really appreciate, including feeling low, relationships, leaving home or contraceptive advice.

"Since it was set up 23 years ago, Talkzone advisors have responded to thousands of enquiries from young people on a huge range of issues."

Talkzone manager, Tracy Scotland, added: "Although the majority of the calls we take in August are about worries over A-levels and GCSEs, we're available 365 days a year to talk to any young person about any concern they have.

"Staff are fully trained and are able to identify options for young people who may not have a place sorted out, or for those whose results have been better or worse than expected.

"Whether the issue is large or small, Talkzone is available to help, so don't be afraid to call, text or contact us online."

Young people can call Talkzone on 0800 511 111, or text on 07786 511 111.

The walkers taking a short break near Ormskirk Golf Club

Charity feat!

WALKERS put their best foot forward and raised almost £500 for charity.

About 70 people took part in the ramble around Lathom to commemorate the World War One horses of Lathom Park.

The event, organised by Freshfield Animal Sanctuary and supported by Lathom Park Trust, started at Ormskirk railway station and followed the route taken by the war horses through country lanes and ending at historical Lathom Park Chapel where participants were supplied with refreshments for a small donation.

The walk was led by Paul Kenyon, chairman of Lathom Park Trust, who pointed out historical features on the way and upon arrival at the Chapel, spoke about the significant history of the chapel and of Lathom itself.

The event raised £225 towards chapel funds and approx £250 for Freshfield Animal Sanctuary.

Martin Mere news

One of the rarest birds in captivity, the Spur-winged goose, has laid 9 eggs at WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre.

Martin Mere has a pair of spur-winged geese and is the only location in the north of England where you can come along and see them – the only other location is a wildfowl collection in Sussex. Heralding from Africa, this goose is not rare in the wild but Martin Mere is one of the only places in this country to come and see them up close.

The last time Martin Mere reared spur-winged goslings was back in 2007 when 10 goslings hatched out.

Grounds manager, Steve Nasir, says: "The Spur-winged geese are magnificent birds, I am absolutely delighted and very excited about breeding these birds – it will actually be the first time I have ever been involved with rearing them. Not only do we get comments that they look like dinosaurs but the male has sharp spurs that over an inch long on their wings. They use these spurs in defense and it is the only bird that has a risk assessment in the Martin Mere grounds."

What makes them even more unusual is that in the wild the spur-winged geese will eat blister beetles which have a poison called Canthardin. This poison builds up as toxins in their body which actually makes the birds poisonous to eat.

The goslings are due within the next few days and they will be viewable in the duckling nursery, were they will be hand reared due to their rarity.

In other news at the centre, Martin Mere has been shortlisted for Most Family Friendly Attraction in the Southport Ambassador Awards – the winner is decided by vote. If you would like to vote for the centre and help us to win this award, please visit southportvisiter.co.uk and click on the vote now button on the top right of the page. We are also entering the last few days before the LEGO® brick animals leave the centre on Monday 5 September – the next few days really is the last chance to come and see them and to do a LEGO brick workshop.

WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre is open every day (except Christmas Day) from 9.30am to 6pm during summer months and parking is free of charge. Situated off the A59, it is signposted from the M61, M58 and M6. The Centre is also accessible via the Southport to Manchester and the Liverpool to Preston line by train from Burscough Rail Stations. Visit the web site http://www.wwt.org.uk/martinmere/ to find out what's on all year round at Martin Mere and the other eight WWT Wetland Centres.

Fundraisers brew up a £700 boost for cancer charity

KIND-HEARTED fundraisers have brewed up a boost for a cancer research charity.

Members of the Aughton branch of the North West Cancer Research and members of the public gathered at the Aughton Institute on Bold Lane and raised £700 for the charity, which will be used to support lifesaving cancer research projects across the region.

Guests enjoyed a selection of coffee, teas and homemade cakes.

They were also able to buy gifts and arts and craft items from various stalls. A raffle was also held and prizes were kindly donated by charity supporters.

Ruth Griffiths, the group's secretary said: "Once again the generosity of the local community has astounded us and has helped us to raise a tremendous amount of money.

"North West Cancer Research is the region's biggest locally-based funder of cancer research and relies solely on donations to fund its lifesaving research, which is why every penny we can raise to help them in their mission to beat cancer is important."

Bobby Magee, fundraising manager at North West Cancer Research, said: "The success of the event is testament to the strength of our long-serving fundraising committee in Aughton and the time and energy they devote to helping us.

"Without the generosity and backing of the local community the charity would not be able to continue to support cutting-edge research.

"So on behalf of the charity I would like to thank everyone involved and who gave so generously."

Parbold festival to be held this weekend

THE SECOND annual Parbold Street Festival will take place this weekend.

The Festival of of Arts and Music will be held in the village on Saturday, September 3 and Sunday, September 4.

Last year, more than 5,000 people attended the two day-event, enjoying theatre, the arts, music, street entertainers, a beer festival, hog roast and cider event, exhibitions, food and drink, a duck race, church service and live music.

This year, the event's organisers have revealed that more than 30 attractions will be on show from 14 venues over the two days.

The Festival gets underway at noon on Saturday with a live music performances as well as more than 40 stalls, songs, stories and dance plus theatrical performances.

To celebrate the bi-centennial of the Leeds-Liverpool canal, the Canal and River Trust will be bringing a Victorian barge, George, which has been turned into an interactive museum.

Sunday will see an inter-denominational church service on the Big Stage at 11am, followed by a Duck Race at 1pm on the canal.

The 'Village' stage will have music and theatre performances over the weekend – including a dramatic enactment of the 'Legend of Parbold Hill.'

Sunday deadline to take part in policing consultation

RESIDENTS in the borough only have until this weekend to share their views on how Lancashire should be policed.

The county's police and crime commissioner Clive Grunshaw has been holding an online survey on the subject and feedback from the poll will be used to shape his new police and crime plan, which sets out how police and community safety partners work together to keep Lancashire safe.

Hundreds of people have so far taken part in the 'Let's Talk Policing' consultation either in person when meeting the commissioner out and about in towns across the county or via the online survey.

Anyone who has yet to do so has until Sunday (September 4) to make their voice heard.

Mr Grunshaw said: "I am delighted so many people have taken this chance to have their say on policing in Lancashire but if you haven't, there is still time.

"It's my job to be your voice, as the public of Lancashire, on policing matters. It is important my new police and crime plan reflects your views and needs.

"This plan is at the heart of everything we do and will set the policing priorities for the next four years, as well as determining how I delegate resources to the chief constable.

"This is an important chance to make sure your views are heard."

The draft police and crime plan will be presented to the Police and Crime Panel in the autumn for approval, after which it will be published on the commissioner's website.

For more information or to take part in the survey, visit lancashire-pcc.gov.uk/lets-talk-policing.

Don't miss the bus on school travel passes!

PARENTS are being reminded to make sure their children's school travel arrangements are in place for the next academic year.

Any parent who has received a letter and application form about transport for pupils transferring to secondary school in September who may be entitled to help, should return their completed application as soon as possible.

As soon as the completed form is received, Lancashire County Council will try to issue a new pass so that it is received in time for the start of the new school term.

Anyone who thinks their child may be entitled to help with travel costs when they start secondary school, and who has not received an application form, should contact the School Transport Line on 0300 123 6738.

Any sixth-form pupil who has previously travelled on a school bus contracted by the county council may be able to continue to do this, as long as there are seats available, by purchasing a travel season ticket.

Primary school pupils in years one to six and secondary school students in years eight to 11, who received help with transport last year and whose circumstances have not changed, will receive their passes shortly.

Increase

Pupils attending secondary schools and moving into the sixth form are not entitled to transport assistance.

Children who use taxi transport provided by the county council to primary and secondary schools will no longer receive a pass for these journeys. Parents will be informed of new transport arrangements by letter.

Transport costs on school buses funded by the county council have increased from September 2016. The revised costs are:

- Journeys up to three miles - single fare £1.40, return fare £2.70, annual season ticket £410.
- Journeys between three and eight miles - single fare £2, return fare £3.70, annual season ticket £562.
- Journeys over eight miles - single fare £2.50, return fare £4.70, annual season ticket £714.

Parents are reminded to make sure that their children have sufficient money to cover the cost of the return journey from home to school.

More information is available at www.lancashire.gov.uk/schools or by calling 0300 123 6738.

Store's 'blooming lovely' gesture!

Staff from Morrisons on Park Road left seven bunches of multicoloured germini, which look like huge daisies, around the town in parks, bus stops and shopping areas on Monday, August 22 to celebrate the run-up to the Bank Holiday weekend.

Hannah Evans, Morrisons Ormskirk store manager said: "Our florists know how changeable the weather has been this summer and wanted to cheer everyone up. We hope that the people who found these brightly-coloured posies across Ormskirk took them home and enjoyed having a little splash of warming colour in their house."

MP sings praises of Armed Forces charity

WEST Lancs MP Rosie Cooper has voiced her support and admiration for the wotk of the Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Families Association (SSAFA), the Armed Forces charity which provides support and advice for veterans and their families.

Over the last 12 months the SSAFA helped more than 36,000 veterans and family members, an increasing number of whom are of working age.

The proportion of veterans under the age of 65 has risen from 25% to 40% in just10 years.

And Ms Cooper is encouraging local veterans who need support to contact Forcesline, the SSAFA's free, confidential helpline.

The Forcesline team is trained to assess an individual's needs and refer them to the SSAFA's local services and specialised programmes or to signpost them to another appropriate organisation.

Forcesline can be contacted by calling 0800 731 4880.

Rosie Cooper said: "I applaud the excellent work done by the SSAFA in supporting our veterans, Armed Forces personnel and their families. These are people who put themselves in harm's way in order to protect our country, and they deserve all the help and support we can give.

"The SSAFA can give advice on issues such as housing, finance and health problems. If a veteran or a family member are struggling with any of these types of issues I would urge them to call Forcesline for advice and support."

Just some of the classic cars on show when members of the West Lancs MG Owners Club turned out in force for their latest monthly meeting

Sunny weather brings classic car club members out in force

A TOTAL of 26 classic cars were on display when members of the West Lancs MG Owners' Club held their latest monthly meeting at the Briars Hall Hotel in Lathom.

Steve Kirton from the club said: "For once, we actually had a summer's day and a wonderful warm evening so all the MGs turned out in force.

"There would have been more only at this time of the year it's the holiday season and a few members are away enjoying their jollies!

"With the car park full of MGs as far as the eye could see, the line-up was one MG6, a Magnette, three modern MGFs and three TFs, two RV8s, seven MGBs, two TCs, two TFs, three MGB-GTs, a ZR and one Midget.

"All the members would like to wish our secretary and stalwart of the club, Cam Cunningham, a speedy recovery after his recent surgery and hope he is out enjoying his MG in the not-too-distant future."

The club meets every third Thursday at 8pm at Briars Hall and new members are always welcome. For more information, visit westlancsmg.co.uk.

Volunteers needed for mental health helpline

'CARING and compassionate' individuals who have an interest in mental health are being asked to volunteer for Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust's Wellbeing and Mental Health Helpline.

The trust is looking to recruit volunteers who can spare four hours of their time a fortnight to help out.

The helpline provides a listening, information and emotional support service for those concerned about their own mental health, or that of someone they know. It also signposts callers to additional services to help with overall wellbeing, including eating disorders, domestic violence and sleeping problems.

The helpline is open Monday to Friday 7 to 11pm and Saturday and Sunday from noon to midnight.

Volunteer Thomas Clarke said: "I joined the Wellbeing and Mental Health Helpline 12 years ago to expand my knowledge of mental health. It provided me with the training I needed to feel confident in taking calls and delivering the out-of-hours support that our callers need.

"There is a strong sense of community at the helpline and we put the people we serve at the heart of everything we do.

"Being a volunteer at the helpline allows you to provide the most sought-after human need - to be listened to without any judgement or opinions passed in a safe and confidential place. We are now entering the 20th year of providing the service and our callers tell us that's what they cherish the most.

"It has been so rewarding knowing you are there when people are at their most vulnerable and you can provide the care they need.

"The most important quality you need as a volunteer with us is the ability to listen. Our comprehensive training provides the rest."

For more information about the vacancies within the Wellbeing and Mental Health Helpline service, contact the helpline admin office on 01253 447900 or visit www.lancs-mentalhealthhelpline.nhs.uk.

"You won't find any pushy sales people here at Windoworld. Just friendly, experienced and professional staff. Plus genuine rock bottom prices all year round!"

Community group celebrates Olympic spirit

MEMBERS of a community group which aims to make the arts accessible to all including the most vulnerable in society have enjoyed fun sessions which celebrated the Rio 2016 Olympics.

The Divine Days Community Art Project, which has bases in Burscough and Skelmersdale, was founded by Katie Whitehead, who runs therapeutic and educational programmes for individuals with additional needs, including creative dance and drama workshops.

Members of the project took part in two Olympic celebrations in Skelmersdale, one at Whiteledge Day Centre and the other at the Greenhill Community Hub, earlier this month.

Organiser Edward McCarthy said: "At each event, after the arrival of our own Olympic torch, some creative dance took place using flags, followed by some inspirational Olympic music. Later the participants took part in some Olympic sports and games and more dancing, this time with scores being allocated – followed by an award ceremony and medal presentation.

"The mornings were a lot of fun, but the idea was to show the Olympic spirit, training and dedication, a sense of belonging to a team, fun and sense of competition and achievement. These are qualities our members already show, week in, week out. Well done to everyone who took part."

Search for county's 'Tourism Superstar'

Report by Henry James

John Gillmore Tourism Superstar winner 2015

MARKETING Lancashire is scouring the county for Lancashire's Tourism Superstar 2016.

The award is one of 19 that will be presented at this year's ceremony to be held at Blackburn Cathedral on Thursday, November 10.

It recognises those who make a special contribution to tourism and make a significant impact on the visitor experience of Lancashire.

Members of the public, as well as tourism colleagues across the county, are invited to submit their suggestions via the short online nomination form at www.lancashiretourismawards.com.

The deadline for nominations is Monday, September 5 after which a shortlist will be drawn up with the successful finalists then going to public vote.

Introduced in 2014, this is the only Lancashire Tourism Award that is decided by the public via an online vote and previous winners include BBC Radio presenter, John 'Gilly' Gillmore and Sandcastle Waterpark's guest service and inclusion manager, Sue Copp.

Anna Izza, head of PR and communications at Marketing Lancashire, said: "The winner of this year's Tourism Superstar will join a very special group of individuals who make a huge difference to the visitor experience of Lancashire.

"Gilly and Sue have both made a big contribution to the success of Lancashire's visitor economy, whether that's through impeccable customer service, bringing to life the county's fascinating history or by sharing the county's people and places with the wider world, they epitomise what's truly great about Lancashire."

The shortlist will be announced during the week commencing September 26 when the general public will be encouraged to vote for their Lancashire Tourism Awards Superstar 2016.

Following the public vote the top three will be invited to awards night on November 10 here the ultimate winner will be announced.

Burscough back in promotion hunt

BURSCOUGH put themselves back in the First Division promotion window with a 119 run win at fellow chasers Southport & Birkdale.

After being asked to bat first Burscough declared after 54 overs on 197-7 with Ryan Hughes (95) just falling short of his second successive century in as many weeks.

In reply, Chris Brownlow top scored with 23 as the hosts were dismissed for 78 with Navdeep Aujla taking 5-12.

S&B then hammered Prestatyn on Monday, scoring 109 before dismissing the home side for just 33 with Chris Brownlow claiming four wickets for two runs.

Ainsdale extended their lead at the top of the First Division to 29 points with a convincing 123 run home win over second placed Fleetwood Hesketh, writes Glenn Wallworth.

The hosts elected to bat first and thanks a fine Mark Lucas century (104) were able to declare in the 52nd over on 230-8, with Danny Murphy 3-63 and Issy Perera 3-86 sharing six wickets.

In reply, Paddy Travers (30) and Connor Allison (22) were the only batsmen to offer much resistance as Martyn Farrell 4-28 helped bowl out the visitors for 107 to seal a very one sided contest.

Maghull dropped to the foot of the table after losing at home by five wickets against Orrell Red Triangle.

This weekend's local First Division fixtures: Burscough v N'p Hall, Newton le W v Maghull.

Bohannon and Baybutt shine as Ormskirk stun leaders Northern

Big score of 209-8 proved no obstacle for batsmen as total is passed for loss of just one wicket

ORMSKIRK hammered Northern on Saturday and in the process knocked them off the top spot in the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition Premier Division after a nine wicket defeat at fourth placed Ormskirk, writes Glenn Wallworth.

The visitors chose to bat first and managed to put 209-8 dec up on the board with Stephen Lucas (42), Ian Carroll (39*) and Justin Snow (34) in good touch.

Ormskirk then romped to victory on 210-1 thanks to two unbeaten knocks from Josh Bohannon (90*) and Andy Baybutt (84*) plus 33 from Michael Jones.

Bootle stay up in fifth place after a last gap 53 run home win over Lytham, the hosts chose to bat and put 190 up on the board with opener Jackson Knight scoring the bulk of the runs with 85, whilst Taylor Cornall took the bowling honours with 4-29. In reply, Chris Liptrot removed Lancashire's Toby Lester (27) with the final ball of the match to dismiss Lytham for 137 and seal victory.

Third placed Formby had a crushing nine wicket home win over relegation threatened Rainford. The visitor's decision to bat first proved costly as they were dismantled for just 70, with spinners Gray Keedy 15.5-8-16-8 and Stephen Parry 20-8-27-3 proving their worth with the ball.

In reply, James Seward (31*) and Dane Williams (24*) took the hosts to victory on 74-1 in just 10.5 overs.

In reply, Chris Liptrot removed Lancashire's Toby Lester (27) with the final ball of the match to dismiss Lytham for 137 and seal victory.

This weekend's local LDCC Premier Division fixtures (noon start): Birkenhead Park v Formby, Bootle v Ormskirk and Northern v Leigh

Care home residents enjoy Liverpool outing

RESIDENTS from two care homes joined up forces for a trip to the Hilton Hotel in Liverpool.

Staff and residents from Athena Health Care Group's homes Abbey Wood Lodge, County Road, Ormskirk and Parklands Lodge, Southport enjoyed afternoon tea, coffee, cake and wine.

The care group launched their initiative Friendship Days earlier this year in a bid to encourage care home residents, their friends and families to team up with lonely members of the community to enjoy days out together to make new friends.

Nurse's plea to find missing cat

A NURSE from Burscough is appealing for help to find her missing pet.

Kate Dawson, 35, from Black Moss Lane, is offering a reward to anyone who helps her to find her all-black tom-cat, Dante who hasn't been seen since Wednesday, August 17.

The year-old feline, which has been neutered and micro-chipped, was wearing a red spotted collar when last seen in the Black Moss Lane/Moss Lane/Red Cat Lane area.

Kate said: "I am appealing for information on my lovely cat Dante who has gone missing. I am so worried and ask people to check their sheds, outhouses and barns in case he is trapped somewhere. He is really friendly and inquisitive.

"I have leafleted the area and I am offering a reward to get him back."

If you have seen Dante you can call Kate on 07793 050 859.

Faye looking forward to play Annie in musical

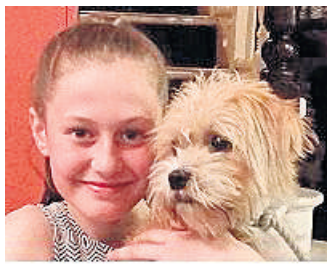
BOS Musical Theatre Company are bringing Annie to the Little Theatre, Southport from October 1 – 8.

The tale is of the young orphan Annie in 1930s America, who lives under the awful dictation of the orphanage run by Miss Hannigan. It's just her luck to be picked to spend some time with the billionaire Oliver Warbucks, who subsequently does his best to find her long lost parents, but all does not go to plan…

Come along and watch BOS' musical production of this well-known creation of Annie. See BOS' Annie played by Faye Colebourn.

Faye is thrilled and overwhelmed to be playing Annie. This will be a personal challenge to the 11yr old who is approaching year 8 this forthcoming academic year. Faye is a dab hand at performing as she is a member of a musical theatre and dance organisation outside of being a member of BOS.

Faye said: "I am grateful for the opportunity to play Annie with BOS and am looking forward to it hitting the Little Theatre stage in October."



Faye with Pine

Faye will be joined on stage by 16-month old Jack Russell/Shis Tzu cross. Pine the dog is a calm and appeasing dog, hopefully looking forward to her stage debut with BOS.

Pine is currently attending puppy training. Both her and Faye have built up a stage relationship for their performance in Annie.

Advanced ticket booking is now available on: 01704 564042 and available from the box office from September 24 from 11am to 2.30pm. Further details and more about the cast will be available nearer the time.

Group to open season with Australian guitarist

DOUGLAS Music, Parbold, opens its 2016-17 season of international Saturday concerts in Parbold Village Hall Arena Auditorium on Saturday, September 24 at 7.45 pm, with the welcome return of Australian born guitarist, Craig Ogden.

A household name to listeners of Classic FM and Radio 3, Craig is one of the most acclaimed classical guitarists of his generation with a string of No.1 CDs to his name.

For this concert, he teams up with his opera-star wife, mezzo soprano, Claire Bradshaw in a popular programme blending favourite classical works by Henry Purcell, Franz Schubert and Joaquin Rodrigo with some of the standards of Jerome Kern and George Gershwin.

Claire's operatic roles have included the title role in Carmen in Raymond Gubbay's acclaimed Royal Albert Hall production, which received rave reviews. The duo have twice toured Australia and have performed in South Africa. They appear regularly at festivals in the UK.

Craig Ogden studied guitar from the age of seven. In 2004 he became the youngest instrumentalist to receive a Fellowship Award from the Royal Northern College of Music in Manchester. He has performed concertos with all the main UK orchestras and many abroad.

He regularly appears as soloist and chamber musician at major venues and collaborates with many of the UK's top artists and ensembles. Craig even had a bit part in the film Notting Hill. He is an associate artist of The Bridgewater Hall in Manchester.

Claire Bradshaw was born in Yorkshire and studied at the Royal Northern College of Music and at The National Opera Studio. While at the R.N.C.M. she won all of the college's main vocal awards and was also a finalist in the prestigious Kathleen Ferrier Awards. Claire has performed many and varied roles with Welsh National Opera, in the Spoleto Festival (Italy) and at the Barbican.

Douglas Music's future artists include the favourite concert pianist Noriko Ogawa and Wingates Band in a Disney Extravaganza for all the family.

Douglas Music is supported by the Arts Council, England, Lancashire County Council and West Lancashire Borough Council.

University's partnership with Tate continues with programme of events

EDGE Hill University's ongoing partnership with Tate Liverpool will see a programme of events take place over the coming months, including a film screening and in-conversation evening about artist Francis Bacon.

To celebrate the exhibition, Francis Bacon: Invisible Rooms, which runs until September 18, the University's Institute for Creative Enterprise, an initiative that connects students with leaders in the creative and cultural industries, will host the evening in partnership with Tate Liverpool.

The free event will comprise a screening of Love is the Devil: Study for a Portrait of Francis Bacon, followed by an in-conversation discussion with curator of the Francis Bacon exhibition, Kasia Redzisz.

Roger Shannon, professor of Film and Television & director of the Institute for Creative Enterprise said the Francis Bacon evening will build on the success of previous partnership events.

"The 'in conversations' we've held with Tate Liverpool so far about artists Leonora Carrington and Jackson Pollock have introduced themes of contemporary artistic relevance and contributed greatly to the intellectual environment of this university's 'creative campus'.

"The Francis Bacon evening and other planned events will continue in this vein by bringing the curators of Tate Liverpool's major international exhibitions onto the Edge Hill campus to discuss with students and lecturers the stimulating background to the work being displayed in Tate Liverpool's critically acclaimed exhibitions," he said.

Professor Roger Shannon

Edge Hill has also signed on as a sponsor of the Yves Klein exhibition. Launching on October 21 it is the UK's first museum solo exhibition in more than 20 years of the French artist.

One of the most influential figures of the post-war era, Klein's career was marked by extraordinary creativity and a bold attitude to art and life that was pivotal to later movements from pop to performance art and beyond. Presenting around 30 major works the exhibition throws fresh light on his artistic practice.

Mark Allanson, pro Vice-Chancellor of Edge Hill University said that the institution's relationship with Tate Liverpool is invaluable to the creative development of students.

"The Tate Liverpool programme provokes, inspires and starts conversations. Our partnership with Tate adds a dimension to the student experience by making a world-class, innovative gallery readily available to be explored.

"Projects flowing from the partnership provide students on creative courses such as dance, film and writing, invaluable opportunities to enhance their knowledge and employability," Mr Allanson said.

Andrea Nixon, executive director, Tate Liverpool added: "Partnership and collaboration is at the heart of what we do here at Tate Liverpool. We're thrilled to be continuing and developing our relationship with Edge Hill University which allows us to engage with student audiences and create fantastic joint programme together."

DEPARTS WED 12 OCT, 9, 23 NOV, 7, 21 DEC

Become a part of the drama and discover the magic that lies at the heart of ITV's iconic television series as the new Emmerdale Studio Experience opens for the first time this autumn.

The fully guided tours will shine a light on the production process and reveal how everything fits together. With full scale set reconstructions, preserved props and costumes to the secrets behind stunts and special effects, this is a rare chance to step behind the camera and into the exciting world of telly.

Groups will experience the much-loved surroundings of the Dingles, Bernice's Salon, Smithy Cottage and The Woolpack sets, hear fascinating facts on some of the soap's biggest storylines and get the gossip and stories from the studio floor as a guide takes them on a unique tour.

We also make a visit to historic York

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.co.uk

ROUGHLY 15,000 of you had to put up with my waffling over the weekend. This year's Ormskirk MotorFest was a hit – but someone thought it was a good idea to let me into the commentary box!

That someone is Steve Berry, who still holds the record for the most northern person ever to present Top Gear. So for the bits of this year's parades when you weren't being deafened by BRISCA's stock cars or applauding the bubble cars, you were treated to me rambling on about classic cars while Steve flicked through the event notes, trying to work out who the Jensen Interceptors belonged to.

One thing we agreed on was how much West Lancashire's day of petrolhead heaven has evolved since I first got the phone call from an Ormskirk councillor six long years ago, letting me know the powers-that-be were thinking of putting on a car show.

What's resulted since is one of the busiest days on Ormskirk's calendar – and persuading all those people and their cash into West Lancashire has got to be a good thing. Folk who aren't necessarily car geeks like you and me. The free-for-all format and the town centre location meant a lot of the showgoers I saw were young families learning about the joys of cars.

Take the Jaguar Mk2 that won the car category of the MotorFest's concours last weekend – it might not be a Ferrari or an F1 racing car, but the fact the owner's transformed it in the eight year's he's owned it from a box of bits and a rolling shell into a shimmering slice of Sixties nostalgia is genuinely inspiring stuff. Same goes for the 1906 Franklin Model E Runabout – at 110 years old it's easily the oldest car that's ever taken part in the MotorFest, but it still did the same parade laps as all the Subaru Imprezas and the Ferrari 458 Italia.

Thousands of visitors flocked to the Ormskirk MotorFest!

There are things that would make the MotorFest even better still – there are still too many long pauses between the parades, and I'd love to see the organisers take advantage of scheduled changes to the law to allow the event to have a more competitive element – but having an event that puts F1 cars, Aston Martins and race bikes onto Ormskirk's one-way system is a real achievement.

Even if it involves having to listen to that chap who does The Champion's motoring column rambling on over the loudspeakers. Sorry about that.

United set for FA Cup clash

FA Cup action beckons Skelmersdale United this Saturday, but it promises to be a tough trip to Tyneside against a strong Dunston UTS side.

The town of Dunston is not only the home of a certain Paul Gascoigne, but the local side also won the FA Vase at Wembley in 2012, when they beat West Auckland Town.

Skelmersdale United club historian Kevin Panther revealed that of the last 17 FA Cup draws, Skelmersdale have been drawn away 13 times.

Skelmersdale manager Tommy Lawson has a couple of injury doubts for the match with both Rob McIntosh and Tony Rendell carrying knocks that may force them to miss the tie.

One player returning to the squad on Saturday is forward Ben Hodkinson who has been absent for both the Bank Holiday games.

Hodkinson's place in the team has been taken by youngster Callum Mahoney, who wasted no time in staking a claim by scoring after just six minutes at Stafford in Saturday.

If the match in the North East on Saturday is a draw, the replay will be held at Skelmersdale United on Tuesday, September 6, kick off 7-45pm.

Skem battle for two Bank Holiday draws

Ashton United 1
Skelmersdale United 1

SKELMERSDALE are still without a win this season after picking up two draws on the road over the Bank Holiday weekend, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

First up was a thrilling 4-4 draw on Saturday at Stafford Rangers before they again shared the spoils at Ashton United on Monday.

Ashton started the day in top place in the Evo-Stik Premier Division table, plus the Manchester-based club's ground is something of a bogey ground to Skem so it proved to be a good point away from home.

Skelmersdale opened the scoring on 40 minutes from the penalty spot.

Shaun Holden found Wright on the far side of the box with a corner, a late tackle sent Wright to the ground and Almond stepped up to convert from the spot.

The second half was a tight affair but after some good build up play it was a big boot that brought about the Ashton equaliser on 71 minutes.

Substitute Matt Chadwick gathered the long ball then caught the Skem defence out before he slotted home as Fearon closed him down.

The longer the game went on the more the Ashton challenge faded, while Skelmersdale sought to hit them on the breakaway, though both sides found it harder in the hot weather conditions and it ended 1-1.

Before this match, Skelmersdale played out an eight goal thriller away at Stafford Rangers on Saturday.

Skelmersdale took the lead in the sixth minute when striker Callum Mahoney celebrated his first league start for Skem by bravely heading in a cross from out wide.

Stafford were clearly ruffled and went strongly onto the offensive and they levelled on the quarter-hour mark.

Two minutes later and Stafford took the lead when Perry blasted home from six yards out.

Stafford gave themselves a two goal cushion when they scored a third, only for Skelmersdale to immediately fire back two minutes later to make it 3-2 through Almond.

Into the second half and Stafford made it 4-2 when substitute Cater scored on 50 minutes.

On the 64th minute Shaun Holden drove a corner in from the right and Dale Wright crashed home a header from the edge of the six yard box to make it 4-3.

On 88 minutes the ball was fed to Dan Burns on the right, he cut inside lifting a curling dipper over Whitehouse into the top corner to score a magnificent equiliser.

It left manager Tommy Lawson a happy man. He said: "What a game. The lads showed tremendous spirit, every one of them has worked their socks off and they have got due reward for their hard work and willingness not to give up. I can't ask more of them. And we played some tremendous football too."

Linnets still without win in league

Burscough 0
Prescot Cables 5

BURSCOUGH warmed up for their weekend FA Cup qualifying clash in the worst possible way after being thumped at home by Prescot Cables.

The Bank Holiday Monday fixture saw the Linnets concede five, which means they are still without a win in the league this season.

On Friday, August 26, the Linnets picked up a point on the road against Ramsbottom United.

Burscough opened the scoring in the seventh minute through Dean Shacklock but the home side were quick to reply with a goal three minutes later when Gareth Seddon equilised.

Ramsbottom then took the lead on 20 minutes through Jason Hart but Burscough rallied in the second half and ensured they shared the points when Elliott Nevitt made it 2-2.

They are set to host Maine Road this Saturday (September 3) in the FA Cup qualifying round at 3pm.

Richmond hit three in home victory

Burscough Richmond 3

BURSCOUGH Richmond scored three first half goals to sink Mill Hill St Peters. Jack Golding opened the scoring on 25 minutes before the tally was doubled by Peter Armitage. Lee McNabb then made it three just before half time from the penalty spot.
